

Investiture Ceremony

“Leaders are not born, they are made”

Al Ameen Private School has always been of the vision that students are the torch-bearers of tomorrow. Therefore, nurturing them and fostering in them a sense of self-respect, self-discipline, the capacity to enjoy life as independent, self-motivated adults and the willingness to care for others is extremely pertinent. Delegation of responsibility and giving authority to children is important as it teaches them lifelong skills of being powerful and caring at the same time. Keeping this in mind the school's students' council was selected after a rigorous and democratic process in which the students had to go through many processes to get selected for the much-coveted students' council body.

October 10th, 2011 was a bright sunny day when Al Ameen Private School's Investiture Ceremony took place. In a solemn ceremony the new prefect body was sworn in. This is definitely one of the most significant events for our school and also a defining moment in a student's life. This day was inaugurated by a promise of a brighter future as the new prefects got ready to be invested.

The ceremony commenced at 9:00 am sharp in the beautifully decorated school auditorium. Teachers, fellow students and proud parents were there to witness the important occasion along with our distinguished chief guest, principal and other SLT members.

The much-anticipated oath-taking ceremony was performed by the prefects who took their oath of office with the promise that they would carry out their duties with integrity, faith and excellence.

After the oath taking ceremony speeches were given by our guest of honor, SLT members and newly-appointed Head Girl and House Captain. These well-delivered speeches aroused inspiration and motivation in the hearts of the prefects and fired in them an enthusiasm to take up their responsibilities with an added zeal.
