

Parent's Orientation Meeting

Another academic year opened its door welcoming students, parents and staff into the enriching and exciting world of Al Ameen Private School. The Parent Teacher Orientation meeting was held on 24 September 2011. This event is used to enlighten parents on the plans and expectations of the school going forward and get both parents and teachers introduced to each other. We firmly believe that our pupils' parents are our biggest source of support and encouragement.

It was indeed heartening to see such a large turnout of parents who were eager to know what the school had planned and vowed to contribute their time and effort in working side by side with the teachers in ensuring that their children, the students, get the best opportunities to learn, rectify and improve.
